Manager, Selectmen Write Dana About Complaints

One complaint which alleges that local residents have to wait as long as one half hour for MTA bus service in East Arlington has been added to other complaints of MTA bus service received by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan in recent days.

As a result the Arlington Board of Selectmen has written to Mr. Dana of the MTA inviting a representative of that office to sit down with the local Board at a future meeting to discuss the situation.

Town Manager Monahan has already written to the MTA concerning the matter after receiving phone calls and letters about the alleged "poor service."

Meanwhile one local resident has written and talked over the telephone with an MTA employee regarding the matter. His letter to the MTA and a letter to the Town Manager appear in this story.

In his letter to the Manager, he notes that "the happy solution appears to be rapid transit expansion."

Released Time Classes, Open Meeting Tabled At Session.

The question of holding open school board meetings and another on released time classes were both tabled at a meeting of the Arlington school committee Tuesday night, mainly because of the absence of three members of the board.

Permission to ask a vote on the subject of open meetings was requested by Board member Allen at the December meeting.

Rev. George Pennington of the Universalist church was present at the session to discuss the question of released time classes.

It was also noted at the meeting that the Board of Selectmen informed the School Committee of its intention to have Appleton place near Junior High West topped. As a result Superintendent ent Hall will ask the Selectmen if the hottopping might also include the school parking area between Appleton place and the gymnasium.

In connection with a letter from the Selectmen seeking permission for the use of the high school field for the Boys Club Associates Fair, June 26-29, the school committee voted to request that some other location be used because of anticipated construction at the high school this year.

In other business, the school committee voted to accept the annual report of the superintendent and the chairman of the school committee.

The Board also voted to approve the request for location of March of Dimes containers in the local schools.

Bids for steel to be used in the high school construction will be opened tonight.

'Open Letter' To School Board On Released Time Classes

Dear School Committee:

In considering a released time program permitting children to leave school earlier than the usual time, for attendance at church, may one hope that your committee will discuss the following questions, bearing in mind the aim of a good school system:—to promote and maintain what is best for the child?

Please note that I have said "child" and not "children" to indicate that in this matter the immediate effect of such a program on an individual child concerns the community as much as the effect on the majority of children.

1) Can the children afford to lose 40 hours of public school instruction? Could the free Wednesday afternoons be used instead?

2) If one aim of released time is to encourage high standards of behavior, is every aspect of the mechanism of releasing time a good example of such high standards? Is it possible that released time could encourage friction and divisiveness among the children—particularly between those who leave for church and those who don't? In at least one community, Champaign, Ill., such serious friction has occurred.

3) The first amendment to the Constitution says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

When the public school organizes the children to release them for church attendance, does it maintain the letter and spirit of this separation of church and state?

Not by accident is the amendment on religion placed first in the Rights Amendments to the Federal Constitution. It was placed first because it is basic to religious liberty and religious liberty is basic to all liberty. If a man may be coerced in his religion, any other freedom he may have amounts to nothing.

Shall we in Arlington honor this separation of church and state more in the breach than in the observance if we have released time?

Sincerely yours,

S. Shapiro

125 Baskets Presented By Garden Club

The Arlington Garden Club held its first meeting of the new year Wednesday, January 9, at Junior Library Hall at 2 p.m. Mrs. Frank Lincoln, President, greeted the members and their guests with an appropriate and inspiring poem.

Mrs. Richard Low, chairman of the Christmas Baskets Committee reported as having filled and delivered 125 Christmas Baskets to shut-ins at the Rest Homes here in Arlington and to members and friends of the Club whose names were given by the members and the Arlington Visiting Nurses Association. This is done each year. The Garden Club Hospital Service, Mrs. Edmund S. Greiner, Chairman spoke of the work done at the Veteran's Hospital at Bedford, and assisting in the decorating of the hospital at Christmas time.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. John N. Loud, Program Chairman, who presented Mrs. George Gottwald as the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Gottwald, besides being an active member of the Club, is also a member of the Mass. Horticultural Society and an accredited judge of flower shows. Her subject "Gardens Across the Country" was an illustrated recording of outstanding gardens and the historic sites in Pennsylvania and New York State.

"Family Upstairs" Is Scheduled

The Young Adults Group of the Arlington Universalist Church will sponsor the Stagecrafters, of West Roxbury, in a presentation of a 3-act comedy entitled "The Family Upstairs", Friday, January 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

The Stagecrafters organization has been producing plays for 7 years, primarily in the West Roxbury-Roslindale area. Among their past productions are — Magnificent Obsession — Personal Appearance — Blithe Spirit — Night Must Fall — and many others. This is their first production in Arlington and the play, written by Harry Delf, is a family-type comedy dealing with the energetic, usually blundering attempts of a not-too-tactful mother to get her oldest daughter married off. The family situations which arise in the course of the play create a hilarious sequence of events.

The Play will be directed by Edmund West of Boston who is currently completing his academic requirements for a master's degree in Dramatic Arts at Boston University. The cast members are Paul Vincent, Margaret Mulholland, Alice MacLeod, Grace Jacobone, Robert Sprenger, Lyle Sweet, Kathleen Germane and Robert Levy, all of whom have appeared in numerous Stagecrafters productions in the past.

Subscriptions are available from Robert Swanson, Moderator of the Young Adults, Barbara Judd and Jean Spence. Refreshments will be served by Frances Park and a committee.

King Concerned Over 1956 Plates

The Honorable Rudolph F. King, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, is greatly concerned over the large number of reports which are coming to him concerning motor vehicles parked on our ways since the first of the year which still bear only Massachusetts registration plates which expired December 31, 1956.

This is in direct conflict with the laws of this Commonwealth. The Registrar has requested state and community police to take action in all of these instances.

The owners of these vehicles can be prosecuted under two sections of Chapter 90. One is for permitting an unregistered vehicle to remain upon a way—the other is for permitting a vehicle to be upon a way without properly displaying valid number plates.

In addition to the cooperation of the state and community police, all Registry enforcement personnel who observe such vehicles will take appropriate action.

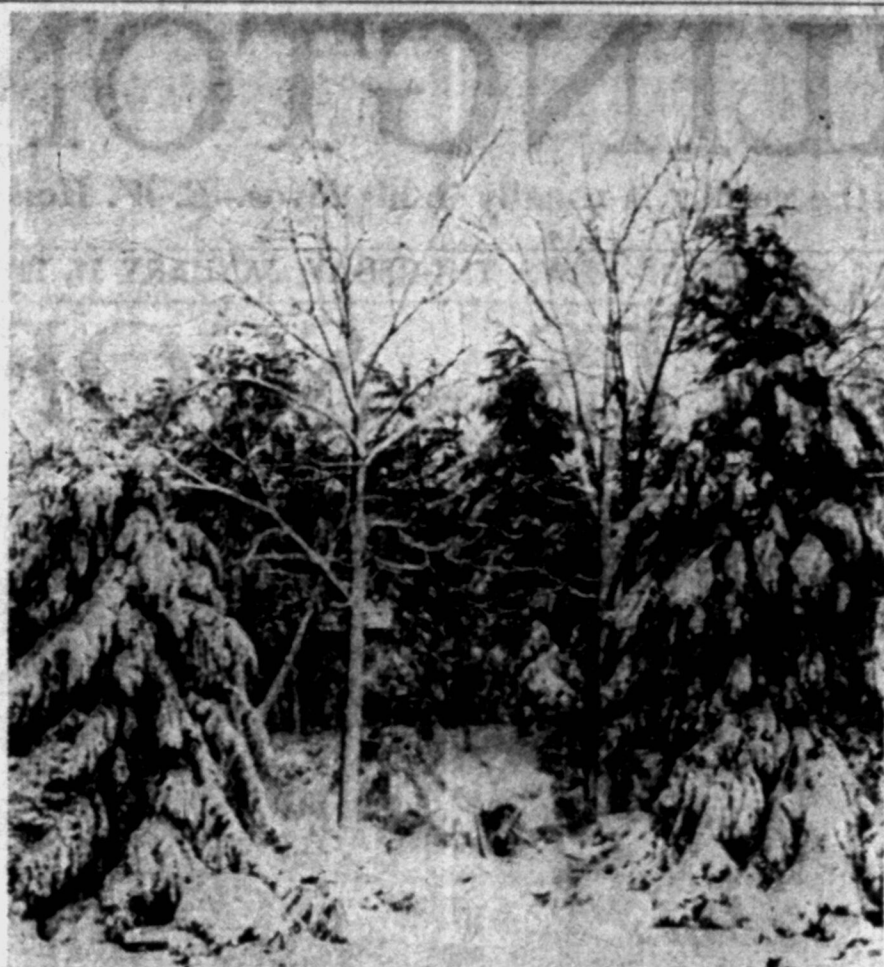

Coasting Mishap

Fred Walsh, 7, of 9 Cheviot rd., was treated at Symmes Hospital, Saturday afternoon for a laceration over the left eye by Dr. Willer. The youngster was injured when his sled struck a tree while he was coasting onto Intervale road.

The Book Review Club held their first meeting of 1957 on Wednesday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Harold Prindle, of Wall street.

Mrs. Arthur Garland reviewed excerpts from the book, "Keys to Happiness".

The next meeting will be held on February 13, at the home of Mrs. John Kilroy.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

An argument often used to advance monopoly business operations in this country is that huge business is better for nation than small business because it can make the multi-million dollar investments required for new tools known as automation. Presumably, automation lowers consumer prices.

Of course, since the auto industry went into automation, car prices have increased, rather than decreased. So perhaps there is a fallacy there, too, but C. W. Harder there is an even greater fallacy.

A leading expert on automation, Henry F. Dever, president of the Scientific Apparatus Makers Association, believes automation should play its most important role helping nation's more than 300,000 small manufacturers employing less than 1000 people to stay competitive.

He says contrary to popular opinion production advantages inherent in automated processes do not necessarily require huge investments.

He cited many concrete examples of this fact.

A Georgia brick firm spent $5000 to install controls to automatically handle its kiln with production boosted 10%. A Dayton firm installed automatic temperature controls on molding presses at a cost of $1000 each, and reduced rejects by 35%. Mr. Dever says in some plants automation might run as much as $100,000, but that is still a long way from the several million figure commonly used.

So once again sharp focus is brought on most pressing economic problem of the times: a realistic reappraisal of federal tax structures.

It is quite possible that many small plants could modernize with automation for an investment of $25,000, for example. This would be a capital investment, and could only be written off for tax purposes over a long period of depreciation.

If the manufacturer needed all his cash, left after taxes, for working capital, and few small firms have any cash reserves, a loan must be secured.

Now if the firm does any business at all, it is in a tax bracket, where in effect, to pay off a $25,000 loan, it must make an extra $50,000 at least.

In other words, out of each additional dollar earned, taxes have a lien on at least 50 cents of it. So undoubtedly, many small firms hesitate to enter into a program where in effect they must earn $2 for every $1 they invest in improvements.

So Congress in January must again face this problem. Is it better to encourage American small business to expand and thus build a strong national economy, or is it better to take away the earnings needed to expand to finance all manner of fancy razzle dazzle foreign aid schemes.

Undoubtedly, several American small business plants could have been fully automated by the U. S. tax money represented in the gunpowder that Anglo-French forces blasted away at the Egyptians.

Would not this money have been better used to produce more American jobs than to produce torn bodies of peasant men, women and children whose life streams soaked into the arid, sandy soils of Egypt. This could be a terrible weight on the conscience of the U. S. Congress.

CYO Competition Gets Underway

C. Y. O. competition in five of the six leagues got underway at Fidelity House with the St. Agnes hoopers winning four of the five games played.

In the first games played the St. Agnes Junior girls dropped a close decision 21 to 17 to the sextet from Our Lady of Grace Church in Chelsea. Virginia Dee and Marcia Limerick were outstanding for St. Agnes in this the first game for the Junior girls.

The second half of the twin bill saw St. Agnes Intermediate girls, last years Archdiocese Champs, easily defeat Our Lady of Grace Intermediates by the score of 44 to 35. Anne Cosgrove, Evelyn O'Keefe and Marge Facon were the big guns in the Micky McMahon coached St. Agnes team, scoring 42 points together.

CADETS ROMP
Swinging into action in the first of three games on Sunday the St. Agnes Cadets romped to a one sided victory over an inexperienced St. Camillus team by the swamping score of 54 to 11. Coach Eddie Sullivan used all his 15 boys during the game. Tom Slincy garnered 20 points for the Medford St. boys and Dave Avjean netted 12 points also for St. Agnes.

Coach Tom O'Keefe's Intermediate Boys, Champs of the Archdiocese last season, opened up with a win in their first attempt at holding onto the Archbishop Cushing Trophy. Playing the second game of the afternoon the O'Keefe men maintained an 8 point spread throughout a hard fought game to defeat St. Patrick's of Stoneham 37 to 29.

Joe Mahoney was the outstanding player of the game netting 13 points and displaying excellent all round floor ability in leading St. Agnes to a well earned victory.

SETLORS IN TIE

In the third game on Sunday the St. Agnes Seniors directed by Coach Bill Bonin played a tremendous thriller which ended in a 58-58 deadlock. In the overtime St. Catherine's of Somerville looked like a sure winner as they pulled away to a 68-66 lead with only a minute left to play. In the last 40 seconds Jim "Hooker" Hayes stole the ball from St. Catherine's Dick Skeffington and while making a layup shot good was fouled. Just as the ball sailed thru the strings as Hayes made his free throw good the buzzer ended the game with St. Agnes out in front 69 to 68.

With four boys teams and 2 girls teams in CYO competition and 2 boys teams plus one team of girls in the Park League play and 20 more teams of boys and girls in intra-murals the 13w Msgr. Flaherty Hall of Fidelity House will be one of the busiest gyms for many miles around Arlington.

French Line Moves Quarters

The French Line announced today that their name, a Boylston Street landmark since 1930, has left that venerable thoroughfare and will be seen henceforward at 30 Newbury street.

Prior to the '30's Mulligan Company acted as agents for the line. The first French Line General Agent was the well known travel figure, H. Ainsley Highman who later was to become Passenger Traffic Manager in New York. World War II temporarily closed the office down. It re-opened on January 1, 1948 with C. A. Emery as General Agent. With Mr. Emery today are W. H. Rice, Jr., Assistant General Agent, H. F. Hall, Reservations Manager and Richard N. Burgess, Tourist Class Manager. Messrs. Emery, Rice, and Hall have a total of 84 years of company time. The office serves the New England States exclusively.

Mr. Emery is pleased with the move as it brings the French Line's 100-year old name into Boston's top shopping center. He has always considered the city—and the territory—travel wise and can hardly wait to present to them the Line's proudest addition, the S.S. France. Expected by 1960 the new $78,000,000 vessel will have the same terraced silhouette as the famed NORMANDIE. She will be a two-class vessel, First and Tourist, with only a fourth of her capacity devoted to First (500) and the rest Tourist (1500). She will be completely air conditioned. She will tip the scales at 55,000 tons.

Rev. Robert Shea performed the ceremony. A reception followed at the home of Mrs. Mary Oliveira, 682 Marrett Road, Lexington, godmother of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Silva, Jr., wore a beige wool suit trimmed with mink and a winter white hat. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Pick of Chelmsford, who wore a blue suit and a white fur hat. She carried an old fashioned bouquet. The best man was Mr. Frank Oliver, uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of the Arlington Schools and the Somerville Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Monroe is a graduate of the Southern Pines schools and is employed by the government at Pope Airbase, North Carolina.

After a honeymoon in Virginia, the couple will reside in Southern Pines, North Carolina.

The indoor bait casting tournament sponsored by the Spy Pond Rod and Reel Association for members of the Arlington Boys' Club is now in full swing with ten to twelve boys participating each Saturday from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in the club gym. The tournament, which began on January 5, will continue each Saturday up to and including March 30 with but one Saturday out. On Saturday, February 2, several of the boys will compete in the trials at the New England Junior Casting Championships to be held at the Sportsmen's Show in Boston.

Albert Beaudoin, who was runner-up in the combined bait and fly casting event at Boston a year ago, has lost none of the skill that enabled him to finish second. In fact he is now a much better caster, both with the bait rod and the fly rod. Stuart Belden is showing marked improvement with the bait rod and is now being instructed by Coach Thurman F. Chandler in the art of fly casting. He should do well in this event.

One of the high lights in the Boys' Club tournament thus far is the score made by Tim Mahoney last Saturday. He scored 99 points out of a possible 100 to equal a Boys' Club Casting record set on January 28, 196 by Eddie O'Brien. Eddie is not competing this year due to being employed on Saturdays.

Chris Lewis, Ted Latty, Phil Quinn, Jim Langley and Jim Morrell are all doing well and can be counted on to have respectable scores by the time the tournament ends. Francis Morey deserves a big A for effort. This 11 year old lad is determined to make the grade and works hard to improve. Each week he shows improvement and if he continues to practice it will not be long before he will be a fine caster.

Local Students Get Briefing

Commercial students at Arlington High recently got a briefing on how to get a job when Miss Mary Adams and T. Douglas Stenberg of the First National Bank spent the day here explaining the process to them.

Presenting a slide program entitled "Beginning in Business", the bank representatives showed how to make application and how to handle the preliminary interview. The pictures then showed in the actual work situation the various types on positions open to trainees. Employee benefits and leisure activities were also covered.

Although the pictures were taken within the bank, they showed the students conditions as they are in many businesses, and were intended to supplement class discussions on job placement. The program was arranged through the cooperation of the Guidance Department and the Commercial Department at the high school.

Guild For Blind To Hold Session

On Monday, January 21, the Arlington Chapter of the Protestant Guild for the Blind will meet at the Universalist Church in Arlington Center. There will be a business meeting from 12:30 to 1 p.m.

At 1 o'clock the Chapter will be the guests of the Association of Universalist Women at luncheon, and following the luncheon, members of the A.U.W. will give a play reading.

Funds raised through Heart Month will enable the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations to broaden the attack upon heart and circulatory diseases, first cause of death in the state and nation.

She also announced further appointments of workers as follows: Mrs. Ralph D. Cook, 23 Jason street and Mrs. Nelson H. Sturgis, Jr., 10 ason street as Chairman of Precinct 8; Mrs. Joris Brinkerhoff, 50 Bradley road and Mrs. Berg Keshian, 69 Ridge street as Chairmen of Precinct 9; Mrs. Earle F. White, 117 Brattle street, Chairman of Precinct 11 and Mrs. William A. McMahon, 21 Kilsyth road, Rec. Chairman of 14a.

February 24, Heart Sunday, will highlight the month-long drive when Heart Neighbors in every community will visit their friends to accept contributions assuring continued research, education and community services in the fight against diseases of the heart and circulation.

Boston. I have acknowledged his call per letter enclosed.

Mr. Hickman stated that the M.T.A. has no solution at hand because they have no surplus equipment. As to the sidewalk condition the City of Cambridge is responsible but apparently gets low priority on the P.W.D. list.

The happy solution appears to be rapid transit expansion. Authorization to build and borrow the monies is possibly a function of the body politics on Beacon Hill. How or who should instigate I do not know.

Metropolitan Transit Authority
Park Square Building
Boston 16, Massachusetts
Att. Mr. Louis C. Hickman
Gentlemen:

I would like to express my appreciation for your call Friday evening. This is the first time that complaints on MTA service resulted in direct contact with you people.

The impression I get is that the MTA is operating with the minimum of equipment and scheduling it with running times based on ideal conditions prevailing in the Spring, Summer and Fall.

Let us compare the Winter schedule with the Fall for Table No. 105. The P.M. rush hour service is substantially the same even though those who lay out the same should know that it is impossible to maintain. As you said normal operations could be 1 1/2 round trips per hour per bus but adverse weather cuts it to 1 round trip. This means, to cope with adverse weather equipment should be increased 50 per cent.

Further thoughts on service shows the MTA as now set up and its predecessors did not grow up with Arlington but let the service bottleneck at Harvard Square. Rapid transit expansion laid out some 50 odd years ago has been carried out within the confines of Boston only because the City not the "El" built the facilities. With thoroughfares laid out for horse and carriage use, dependable and fast transportation of large crowds can be accomplished only with rapid transit service underground or on grand level private ways, using the bus for feeder lines.

Service of this type could attract patronage and help to eliminate some of the one occupant cars now driven into Boston. Service, no matter the cost, in adverse conditions should be the MTA slogan. Other public utility companies, when hit with adverse

Lavalle Chairman
Of Committee
For Rawson

Ralph L. LaValle of 29 Crosby joined other gas utility companies throughout the U. S. in the gas industry's network television debut on Thursday, Jan. 10, as sponsor of "Playhouse 90", CBS Television's distinguished 90-minute dramatic series — 9:30 to 11:00 p.m. The program was carried locally by WNAC-TV, with talented Julia Meade as the Gas industry's hostess.

The initial presentation under gas industry sponsorship was "Mr. and Mrs. McAdam," the story of the plight of a post-hydrogen war community whose survival of extinction rests with the last remaining pair of young persons. Co-starring were John Kerr, Piper Laurie, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Victor Jory, Mary Astor and Elizabeth Patterson. This will be followed each Thursday evening by equally interesting stories. "So Soon To Die," a suspenseful thriller, starring Richard Basehart and Anne Bancroft will be the next feature presentation, Thursday, January 17. Diana Lynn and Eddie Bracken will co-star in a story of science-fiction invention, "The Star Wagon" on Thursday, January 24. This story becomes hilarious as the inventor travels forward and backward in time, reliving the past and seeing glimpses of the future.

The programs will be carried on more than 125 stations across the nation.

For over twenty years Tommy Rawson has made tremendous contributions of his time and energies to many worthy causes here in Arlington, especially in the field of recreation. Friends and associates who recognize these contributions form a large core of Rawson admirers, and they plan to contact every family in Arlington and present their candidates qualifications.

A central headquarters will be opened in the near future, and organizational meetings will be scheduled nightly.

Chairman LaValle concluded his remarks saying, "Tommy Rawson has continually fought for Arlington's best interests in any conflict with proposed state or county projects. His broad experience as a Town official merits his re-election as your Selectman."

Keys To Safe
Winter Driving

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WOMEN WHO "winterize" their driving techniques, as well as their cars, should have no trouble with snow and ice.

Care and caution, an understanding of the hazards, knowledge of basic safety rules, and alertness to the condition of car, weather and highways are the keys to safe winter motoring.

This month I will participate in scientific driving tests which prove the soundness of the above rules. Conducted annually by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards on a frozen lake at Clintonville, Wisc., these tests result in some very important findings.

Automobiles and trucks are put through every conceivable type of braking test on snow and ice as well as tests on how to start, stop, steer and maintain control on slippery surfaces.

Braking tests reveal, for instance, that the stopping distance on glare ice, while driving at 20 miles per hour is 195 feet with regular tires, 174 feet with snow tires, 99 feet with regular tire chains, 77 feet with reinforced tire chains. On both deep and hard-packed snow, reinforced tire chains proved equally effective.

Many more excellent driving tips come out of these tests on the lake's frozen surface, all of which apply to winter motoring on ice and snow-covered highways.

First of all, be sure wiper blades heater and defroster are operating properly. You must see danger to avoid it. Renew blades when stiff or worn.

When pavements are slippery, start the car in second gear or "drive" for a smooth getaway. If your car has a manually operated gear shift, let the clutch pedal out slowly. Don't bear down on the gas pedal. Too much gas and too much power cause a wheel spin—and you'll go nowhere.

Once started, avoid fast acceleration or deceleration; drive at a steady pace. Get the "feel" of the road. To find out if it's slippery, try your brakes occasionally while driving slowly where there is no traffic. Then adjust speed to road and weather conditions.

Follow other vehicles at a safe stopping distance. If you have to stop suddenly on glare ice, the best technique to maintain full control of your car is a fast up-and-down pumping of your brakes. Jamming and "freezing" on your brakes is almost certain to lock the wheels, throwing the car into a dangerous, uncontrollable skid. Power brakes, especially, must be applied with a precise touch.

When you stop on packed snow and on other less slippery surfaces, apply the brakes gently until you feel the wheels are starting to slide. Then release the pedal slightly. If this doesn't get results, start the pumping technique at once.

Over-steering is also a common cause of skids. Instead, take advantage of the maximum turning power of your tires. If you should over-steer, straighten a bit and then turn again.

Should you find yourself in a skid, steer lightly into the direction of the skid. Keep your foot off the brake pedal! Release the accelerator pedal gently. A quick release may throw you into a reverse skid. When you overcome the skid, either pump your brakes to slow down, or accelerate lightly to continue moving.

TOWN HALL
Press Conference

Candidates for re-election to Town Meeting posts have until January 21 to give written notice to Town Clerk James J. Golden of the fact, otherwise they must file nomination papers. January 28 is the final day to submit nomination papers at the Town Clerk's office.

The Board of Selectmen at this week's session granted permission to Sgt. Bagni of the Somerville Army Recruiting Station to have a Recruiting and Publicity bus in two sections of Arlington January 28, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. or if the weather is bad on January 29. The bus will be located on the southerly side of the Avenue between the Town Hall and the Library and in the Heights on the southerly side between Park avenue and Davis road.

Complaints have been received by the Town of snowplows with blades down, plowing only about six inches or a foot of "already plowed" roads. According to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan those operating the plow are but following a Public Works rule which states that plow blades must be kept down at all times by operators of the trucks except while on lunch hour or while going off duty.

Actually plows which seem to be plowing little or no snow on a given street and which are seen on that street many times during the course of a storm are but utilizing it as a means of reaching a side street which has to be plowed.

Plows do not zig-zag from side street to side street, but rather plow streets from end to end before attempting to clear snow from the shorter cross streets. Since it is almost impossible, especially in hilly sections, to turn the plows around at the end of these streets without causing confusion, the operators in most cases are forced to travel short distances (sometimes long distances) to effectively clear the shorter streets. They are not just riding around the same street, apparently clearing very little snow, just to pass the time of day.

In a talk to a local group at the Branch Library last week, the Town Manager attributed most of the tax increase of about 12 dollars from 1953 to 1956 to the cost of construction of new schools in the community.

The latest on the request for an interceptor sewer in the East Arlington section is that the MDC has again in effect said "no".

In answer to the Town's most recent request which noted that Belmont and Cambridge seemed to be interested in the installation of such a line, the MDC said that two courses of action were open to the communities.

(1)—That the sewer be constructed jointly by the three communities and (2)—that an appropriation be requested of the Legislature for the construction of such.

The local Board of Selectmen has taken action by writing the local Senator and Representatives asking that an appropriation be requested under the supplementary budget.

The Finance Committee has approved the request of the Board of Selectmen for transfer of $17,500 to cover the cost of snow removal.

The Board of Selectmen voted at a hearing last week to approve the following streets: Railroad ave.; Washington street, Summer street to Brattle terrace and Brattle terrace, Washington street to the end.

Dear Mr. Moynihan:
May I express somewhat belated appreciation for the splendid support the 1957 Arlington Red Feather Campaign received in the columns of the NEWS. I am particularly grateful for your excellent editorial "Did You Say No?"

While we did not achieve our goal, I believe we made a creditable showing considering the late date at which the campaign was organized. I feel that the publicity we received in the NEWS substantially contributed to the success we achieved.

The chorus meets each Monday evening at 7:45 in the Town Hall; the orchestra meets each Wednesday evening at 7:45 in the auditorium of the Junior High East. Those interested are invited to call MI 8-5143 (orchestra) or MI 8-1363 (chorus) for further information.

A petition presented by David Buttrick, 30 Mill street, Arlington, requesting that the traffic signal light at the intersection of Mass. avenue and Mill street, now a flashing light, be changed to a semi-vehicle actuation with pedestrian intervals or a pre-timed operation light was referred to the Police Department by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan this week.

The petition, according to Mr. Buttrick, included some 500-600 names, some 40 or 50 of which were those of merchants from Grove street to Mill street.

Gifts Received At Fidelity House

The last month has proven to be a big month in many ways at Fidelity House. Many thoughtful individuals and one important organization Post 39 American Legion have remembered Fidelity House in their Christmas giving.

A handsome sum of money was given to assist in the work being done for the Arlington children at the Medford Street Clubhouse. The check was presented to Fidelity House by Mr. Nicholas Sachos Vice Commander of the local legion post.

An attractive addition to the clubs woodworking shop came in the form of a 10" Delta Table Saw complete with 3-4 horsepower motor and stand. This gift, a most welcome piece of equipment for the expanding shop, is another in a series given by one of the towns more civic minded citizens. Always anonymous heretofore this person still prefers to remain unnamed as he assists worthwhile charitable organizations.

The new gym at Fidelity House was enhanced recently by the addition of a large electric clock the gift of a member of the Friends of Fidelity House.

Another member of the "Friends" was highly instrumental in securing many items of office equipment and a large number of individual steel lockers for the boys locker room. A huge steel cabinet for paint storage was also brought in by this same person who is also to be unnamed at this time.

A memorial gift in the form of a beautiful High Fidelity record player has been in use over the holidays and at the teen-age dances. Mrs. John H. Reese of Rawson road gave the record player in memory of her late husband. Mr. Reese was well known in Arlington for his interest in and generosity to the children.

Basketball, volleyball, soccer balls, playground balls and other items of equipment were recently delivered to Fidelity House from the Spaulding Athletic Supply House in Chicopee. All this athletic equipment came as a gift from another member of the "Friends" who has been more than generous at other times in the past.

Fidelity House is grateful to these Parishioners for their thoughtfulness and generosity and to all parishioners who are supporting the work done at this important youth center for all Arlington boys and girls.

Hostess

Mrs. LeRoy W. Busfield was hostess to the Board of the Arlington Circle of the Florence Crittenton League, January 9.

Memorable for the bringing of gifts, and for prizes for wreath sales and a generous visit from Akela, the December Christmas Party of Pack 43 was held in the multi-purpose room of the Parmenter School. With Cubmaster Nicholas Ryan in charge, the flag ceremony was conducted by members of Den 9, Mrs. William Tee, den mother, Peter Heidt at the piano. Members of Den 10, Mrs. Alvin Howell, den mother, recited Luke 2:7-14 as the Christmas devotion.

Donald Heidt received a Bear badge with a gold and five silver arrows, Gerald Urquhart a Bear badge with a gold and two silver arrows, William Matheson, a Wolf badge with a gold and a silver arrow, Peter Morse a Wolf badge, and Chris Angelou a denner's badge.

Inspection "from the waist up" because of the bad weather" was conducted by Inspection Commissioner Russell Haglund and his committee. First place winner was Den 2, Mrs. Erman Perkins den mother, and second place Den 11, Mrs. Ralph Tuller den mother. Members of these two dens had the privilege of accompanying members of the Pack Committee who took Christmas donations to Harriet Tubman House in Boston. The Inspection Pennant was given by members of Den 13, Mrs. Howard Tuttle den mother, to members of Den 2.

Prizes for selling wreaths were announced by Committee Chairman Fred Byam. Over 700 wreaths were sold by the pack. John Perkins won first prize of a tool set for selling 36 wreaths; Richard Dutton the second prize of a knapsack with telescope for selling 32; and Stephen Robinson third prize of a radio kit for selling 28 wreaths.

All other boys who sold ten or more wreaths were given flashlights in recognition of their work. These included: Richard Marchant, Harry Sweeney, Russell Haglund, David Ryan, Peter Morse, William Matheson, Frank Callahan, James Byam, Gordon Clarke, Gordon Howell, Peter Heidt, Davis Saul, Jonathan Williams, and Richard Kobay.

Why Driving Conditions Were Worst In Ten Years After December 30 Storm

The heavy snows and extreme cold which have been the lot of New Englanders this winter have caused very hazardous driving conditions to exist in the area and as usual have brought about the comparison by residents of the various communities of snow removal in the communities and in the several states involved.

A recent release by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works explains why driving conditions in Massachusetts were the worst in ten years after the December 30 storm and also compares the differences which exist in removal of snow in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Which state does the better job of highway snow and ice control, Massachusetts or New Hampshire?

New Hampshire, according to the average motorist driving north following heavy snowfall on Route 28, or any highway entering the Granite State, for proof, he cites the evidence of bare, black road under him the instant the state line is crossed.

On the other hand, New Hampshire highway officials credit those responsible for highway maintenance here with performance of near miracles under conditions far more severe than any met with in the north country.

They know, as do the Massachusetts Department of Public Works engineers, that there is a vast difference in conditions on each side of the state line, and that meteorologically and traffic-wise the two states have little in common.

Snow Drier

Take the type of snow, for instance. New Hampshire snow is drier and more granular than the heavy, wet stuff that accumulates on Massachusetts roads. Ski enthusiasts know that. For that reason it's north they go for skiing. In so going they note the Granite State's bare roads and make comparisons, unfavorable to Massachusetts, of the snow removal in both states. They lose sight of the fact that good ski snow is easier to handle than the wet, sticky stuff at home, where skiing is mostly poor.

Another factor they overlook is the difference in traffic volume. Comparatively light in New Hampshire, here state highways carry as many as 30,000 vehicles per day. That kind of travel on heavy snow makes a solid pack that frequently resists all effort to get down to black road. In comparison, it's child's play to clear the fluffy north country snow from New Hampshire's lightly traveled roads.

There is an organization called the Highway Research Board, a branch of the National Research Council, National Academy of Science. Its members, including highway officials from virtually all states, contribute to a clearing house for information calculated to improve the nation's roads. These men long have recognized that Massachusetts and New England have set the pace in snow and ice control. They also recognize the conditions that make the task of Massachusetts considerably harder than that of any other New England state.

Quick To Accuse

The storm of Saturday, December 30, that left our roads in a treacherous state for several days is a good example. In such instances the public is quick to accuse the public works department of laxity in plowing and in use of sand and salt. This was no exception. G. Gordon Love, MDPW maintenance engineer, is the general whose army battles the elements' effects. Asked what happened, he explained that some 3500 tons of rock salt and 50,000 tons of sand had been spread, but that it had been just too cold for the salt to work so the sand could sink in before the wind picked it up. That storm, Love said, was responsible for the worst driving conditions in 10 years, and involved peculiar conditions as follows:

"In the early stages there was a road surface temperature of a little above freezing, and an atmospheric temperature a little below freezing. So at the start it was wet snow, which the traffic compacted.

"That moist pack was beaten down by traffic to about one inch. Our plows don't go below that. Then there was a sharp drop in temperature that hardened the pack into ice.

"Normally, between 25 and 32 degrees, our sodium chloride or rock salt works on that inch, and with traffic action it destroys the adhesion of the snow to the pavement. Thus, 12 hours after the usual storms, the pavement is bare. But this time the mercury dropped down into the teens, and the salt just lay there dormant.

"The trouble is that science cannot do everything. We are still at the mercy of some types of storm."

Expansion is Problem

Nature's whims are by no means the only problem with which public works engineers have to contend. "Our normal procedure is to try to prevent accidents by producing bare roads as soon as possible after a snowfall," one of them explained. "That is not always easy," he said, "because we have to compensate for people who will not make concessions for winter conditions." He referred to drivers who insist on attempting to negotiate ice and snow-covered highways unequipped with chains or snow tread.

Maintenance Engineer Love has summarized the snow and ice control problem in these words: "Operations in Massachusetts involve approximately 2200 miles of state highway, and about 500 miles of town roads that are plowed on a cooperative basis. A large portion of the state is within a belt where several cycles of freezing and thawing occur almost daily, so that conditions change from safe to hazardous frequently and suddenly. Sections of road which may be entirely dry during the day become suddenly covered with skin ice as the result of the freezing of condensation.

"The control problem becomes increasingly difficult because of the current expansion of metropolitan areas. It is estimated that 200,000 vehicles enter the Boston area from state highways daily, and a like number makes the return trip. Approximately 60,000 vehicles enter and leave the Worcester and the Springfield areas daily. Snow and ice control gets more difficult, of course, in ratio to the traffic volume increase."

Optometrists Hear Dr. Horley

Dr. Donald W. Horley, optometrist, 476 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, was a feature speaker before the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists, Sunday, January 6. This is the Annual Postgraduate Educational Session and was held at the Oceanic Hotel, Magnolia, Mass., with a large number of optometrists from Massachusetts attending.

Dr. Horley's subject for lecturing was "Basic Diagnostic and Training Techniques in Heterophoria and Strabismus". Strabismus (cross eyedness) can often be improved or corrected through the use of eye exercises. He used the newest available instrumentation to demonstrate the techniques employed for this purpose.

Repeat Resolutions

We remember some New Year's Resolutions which were printed a year ago and feel that they still hold true and always will.

These "good resolutions" concern heart disease. It was noted that good resolutions for the year (1956) should begin with a determination to let facts — rather than worrisome fears — govern your attitude toward heart disease.

Continuing and quoting from the Massachusetts Heart Association:

"If you have any doubt about the condition of your heart, consult your doctor."

The resolves which were proposed a year ago by the Heart Association and which seem to hold true daily follow:

To learn the facts about the heart and its diseases, and to avoid needless fears and worry.

To shun self-diagnosis in favor of regular heart and health checks by your physician.

To guard against excess weight, remembering that overweight overworks your heart.

To get the sleep and rest you need, because rest lightens the work your heart has to do.

To keep fit by exercising moderately and regularly. But, remember, act your age and don't try to prove that you have the physical stamina you had 10 or 20 years ago. Strenuous exercise may not harm a healthy heart, but the danger is real if your heart and circulation are not in good order.

To be alert to the dangers of respiratory infections which are more common during the winter months, and may place an added strain on the heart. Prompt medical treatment for such infections is important, especially for "strep" throat, which may be the forerunner of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease in children.

The Association pointed out that hope and optimism are increasingly warranted by the dramatic advances in diagnosis, treatment, prevention and care achieved in recent years as the result of heart research, and that while a heart disease was once regarded as a sentence of death or life-long invalidism, it is now recognized that some forms of heart disease can be prevented, a few can be cured, and that almost all cases can be helped by proper treatment, especially after early diagnosis.

Food For Thought

The violent deaths of the many over the Christmas holidays have served to make many of us stop and think. If we had been less fortunate, couldn't we too have been numbered among them.

How many of us have, when we thought we might "get away with it," eased by stop signs when no-one seemed to be around, or driven for a few yards on the wrong side of the road when it seemed convenient, or violated the speed limit because we were in a hurry?

Well, a note dropped to us from Los Angeles, if nothing else offers food for thought. We offer it as just that.

Quoting: "Fines do not seem to be the answer to our traffic violations, perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the car from one to thirty days. If we had to do without the use of it for a few days each time maybe we might become educated."

Babson Discusses INVENTIONS

Roger W. Babson

The greatest efforts will be made to develop a small safe reactor which will enable homes to use uranium for fuel instead of oil, or gas, or coal. Next there will be more use of electronics to take the place of workers in factories. This is known as automation.

STENOGRAPHERS BEWARE!

The use of electronics which interests me most is to have a machine into which I can talk and have writing come out the other end! There are now several successful dictaphone machines which transfer the voice onto "receivers" such as blank flat phonograph records, or the standard wax cylinders, or electronic magnetic tape. I am told that the Soundscribe Company is perhaps the most progressive, but all are doing good work as far as they go.

All dictating machines, however, now need a pretty girl to take the material from the wax cylinder, or the flat record, or the electronic tape, and transfer it into written words on a sheet of paper by use of a typewriter. Great efforts, however, are being made to eliminate the need for this typist so that a person can dictate directly into a machine and have something come out which anyone can read. This would not require a typist.

RETURNING TO PHONETIC SPELLING

Some years ago there was a fine hotel at Lake Placid, New York, which promoted the Dewey Phonetic Spelling. Mr. Dewey wrote all his advertisements, circulars, letters, and even menus with phonetic spelling. Whether he did it to amuse the guests or to promote the phonetic idea, I do not know. One thing certain is that for any of these revolutionary dictating machines to succeed, all children must be taught phonetic spelling. At the present time, three large corporations are trying to develop these new machines. Let me explain their three different methods of approach.

The International Business Machines Corporation is hoping to have its machine use the same alphabet we now use in letters. The Eastman Kodak Company may bring out a photographic method. Of course, the photography of still images was really a wonderful invention; then followed the photography of moving pictures. It is possible that these can be developed so that the spoken word will be photographed like a moving object. This is almost approached now by showing in television the expressions on people's faces; in fact, many listeners have the to read the lips of speakers. Photography experts will not be satisfied until they can photograph thoughts, as well as words.

THE ELECTRONIC METHOD OF WRITING "SHORTHAND"

Of the different systems, the electronic system interests me most although it requires forgetting the present alphabet and returning to the use of script writing. First came the telegraph with the dash and dot system; then came the telephone and the Autograph; then followed the electronic-phonograph and the magnetic tape. Few persons realize the wonderful electronic machine that is in their latest phonograph. When Thomas Edison invented the original phonographs, they were purely mechanical. Every spoken word made a wavy indentation on a wax cylinder, after which these wavy movements were exaggerated by levers which, at the other end, moved a thin metal diaphragm and faintly reproduced these spoken words. With a large horn the sound increased so that anyone, nearby, could hear them.

The modern phonographs, however, turn the waving motions which have been produced by the spoken words into electric waves which, through the use of tubes are greatly magnified. Radio Corporation of America is already transferring these words into wavy lines which some experts can read. This would be the ideal system; but it would require the use of almost a new written script something like "shorthand" which could be taught to every child. Even this, however, is not so revolutionary when you think that the "score" of music is an entirely different "alphabet" which millions of young people of all nations have learned to read and enjoy.

CONGRESS

Now that the Senators and Representatives have become organized, we are able to make a rough analysis of their ability and training.

TOO MANY LAWYERS

It appears that about three quarters of both branches of Congress are lawyers. At first glance, this seems reasonable, as their job is to make laws; this, however, should be the work of professional clerks. The Congressmen should confine their efforts to questions of policies. Lawyers, by training, are in a poor position to determine basic policies. Lawyers are trained to win cases, whether the defendant or prosecutor is right or wrong. The very fact that there are two parties to each suit though only one party can win, and that both sides are represented by attorneys, is definite evidence that half of the attorneys are wrong! In the eyes of a statistician, this is a very poor record. If one half of the bridges built by engineers collapsed, something would be done about it.

Ninety per cent of the legislation today is economic. This applies to agriculture, to manufacturing, to general business, and even to pensions for individuals. There should be no gambling connected with such legislation. A table for Multiplication, Division, or Addition allows for no compromises. It is the same with policies; they are either right or wrong. They should not be settled out of court or in cloak rooms. All this means that three quarters of the Senators and Representatives should be nationally recognized economists. They should be qualified either to legislate according to economic principles or else not to legislate at all. This principle should have been adopted when the nation was on the Gold Standard; but now that we are on the Political Standard, it is imperative. Some claim that more businessmen, bankers, manufacturers, and labor leaders should take the place of these lawyers. The real need, however, is for trained and practical economists and engineers who know what is best for the nation and have the courage to vote accordingly.

SUEZ CANAL RUMPUS

Probably the Suez difficulty is due to many causes, but it was primarily a matter of politics. President Nasser, of Egypt, was playing politics to get the good will of his people while raising money to build the great Aswan Dam. Prime Minister Eden was playing politics to hold his position and not be thrown out by the Labour Party. Other countries involved — possibly including the United States — were considering their heavy investments in oil. Basically, however, the Suez difficulty is an economic problem. It is not the votes involved which should be considered, but rather the tankage, distances, freight rates and other important problems of international trade. Probably the final solution will reflect a mixture of politics, statistical facts, and world economics. This means that the solution of the problem will not be permanent, but will be a mere stopgap. This shows that courageous economists are needed in international affairs as well as in domestic affairs.

The custom of selecting our Ambassadors according to their wealth or their contributions to campaign funds is absolutely wicked. Such a policy may have been largely responsible for the fact that England and France acted without the knowledge of the United States or the United Nations. Ambassadors should be trained economists, which probably means career men. Representatives to the United Nations. Ambassadors should be trained economists, which probably means career men. Representatives to the United Nations should be selected according to their knowledge of economics and their experience in dealing economic problems.

THE SANCTITY OF CONTRACTS

Individual, national, and international prosperity depends upon the recognition of the sanctity of contracts. No individual, corporation, or nation can prosper in the long run without an earnest endeavor to carry out its contracts. This is a fundamental matter in connection with the oil companies using the Suez Canal. Furthermore, a man does not need legal training in order to recognize the Ten Commandments. Honesty is not only the best policy, but it is the only policy upon which a reputation, or a business, or a nation can prosper and survive. No one nation should be allowed to interfere with the international trade vitally affecting all nations. A great need today is CONFIDENCE.

Of course, in discussing the sanctity of a contract, an individual, corporation, or nation is justified in knowing that the contract was not obtained dishonestly by misrepresentation, coercion, or bribery. It is possible that some contracts for drilling oil were obtained under rather unsavory conditions, but no such claims have been made in connection with the high-grade oil companies now suffering from the Suez dispute. Possibly it would have been better to have had the Suez Canal contract, when originally drawn, made subject to renegotiations similar to the renegotiations that the oil companies have already gone through. These Suez renegotiations could have been under the jurisdiction of a committee of accountants and economists approved by the World Court. The committee could employ an international and impartial lawyer, upon whom all parties would agree. Their decisions, however, should strengthen the importance of the sanctity of contracts and not undermine or impair same. In closing, let me say that my appeal in this column may not do any good but, as Congress is now organizing and as the Suez negotiations are in full operation, I do want my millions of readers to be thinking over this message.

Boys Club Completes Most Successful Year In History

"The Arlington Boys' Club has just completed the most successful year in its 19 years of providing recreation and guidance for the boys of this community," reports Director George "Bud" Faulkner.

Progressive gains in every phase of the Boys' Club movement have proven advantageous to 1557 boys and young men who registered as dues-paying during 1956.

A break down of the membership is as follows: — Midlets, 528; Juniors, 614; Intermediates, 306; and Seniors, 109.

Certainly $20.30, the actual cost of providing "juvenile decency" for each individual for the entire year is money well spent, as proven by the low rate of delinquency in our town and the Boys' Club, Park and Police Departments and other youth organizations can be proud of this healthy situation.

The daily attendance is running unusually high — 300 per day and this may be attributed to the highly efficient staff who instruct the boys in the various activities which include everything from gymnastics to creative art classes. At the Boys' Club, a boy has an opportunity to develop his own natural talents and also to create new ones.

Faulkner stated "As you have probably noticed the majority of our enrollment is between 8 and 13 years of age. In accordance with this high enrollment of younger boys the larger part of our diversified program is geared to this younger age bracket. Although we do have many activities for the older young men, it is our belief, that if we can instill a good sense of values and morals in our younger boys, a great deal has been accomplished. Their future as responsible young men is assured if the give up to these guiding characteristics. This preliminary annual report would not be complete if I did not commend the many people and service clubs who

Of Serious Consequence

We have noted during the last few days that the Arlington fire department has been called out to extinguish blazes in rubbish rucks. Fortunately, neither fire was very serious.

We hope that the fires which took place while the trucks were "picking up" on Hopkins road and Lantern lane will serve as warnings to all those who put rubbish cans out, to be a little more cautious and make certain that these containers do not contain hot ashes or any other materials which could cause fire.

Maybe, it seems of little consequence, but serious accident could be caused by such blazes.

Let's exercise a bit more caution, shall we?

James Goodwin

Funeral services were held last weekend at the Kimball Chapel, Winchester, for James J. Goodwin, 68, Boston leather goods retailer, who died January 9 at his home, 37 Wyman terrace, Arlington.

He was owner of the James J. Goodwin leather goods firm, Boston, and was a member of the Old South church, Boston.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen (Mason) Goodwin; a son, James J. of Manchester, N. H.; a daughter, Mrs. Laura Messer of Cambridge; and a sister, Mrs. Alice Crowley of Boston.

Burial was in Mount cemetery, Arlington.

Former Students On Dean's List

Word has been received here of high scholastic work being done by two of last year's graduating class at Arlington High at their respective colleges.

Ronald O. Reynolds of 63 Newport street has been named to the Dean's list for high scholastic achievement for the first marking period at Northeastern University College of Engineering, and Carol Jane Finley of 80 Woodland st., has won similar honors at Westbrook Junior College.

To The Editor

May I express, through your "Letters to the Editor" column, my appreciation to the six hundred Red Feather Volunteers in our recent campaign, who did the work of a thousand people to achieve almost ninety percent of our goal.

I wish it were possible within our budget limitations to send a personal letter to everyone who gave so generously of his time and effort, and especially to those mothers of several children who made a great sacrifice to help this worthwhile community activity.

I hope that the New Year will bring happiness and prosperity to those who worked so hard to help others.

Sincerely,
Charles W. Blackmon,
General Chairman

Fidelity House
Ceramics Exhibit
At Harvard Trust

The display section of the Arlington Center branch of the Harvard Trust Co. is occupied for this week and next week with objects produced in the Ceramics classes at Fidelity House.

Beautifully mounted, the exhibit reflects much of the skill shown by members of the different groups enjoying this fascinating hobby which has become so popular in recent years.

Featured in the display are pieces developed, painted, glazed and fired at Fidelity House and are some of the thousands of such items produced by the classes in one season.

At present seven different classes are conducted every week at the Medford St. Clubhouse under the direction of Mrs. Daurretta Sumner. Afternoon classes are restricted to the children members, boys and girls, of Fidelity House. Two adult classes, one each Tuesday and Thursday mornings, are conducted for the adults and the high school girls have a session in ceramics each Thursday evening.

Children and adults interested in taking part in one of the classes may obtain further information by inquiring at Fidelity House. New classes are formed at regular intervals so that a greater number may share in the enjoyment and pleasure of this interesting activity.

Reminds Aliens About Alien Address Program

The Arlington Department of Adult Civic Education and Americanization through Superintendent of Schools, Clifford R. Hall, in cooperation with the United States Department of Justice, offers a pertinent reminder regarding the Alien Address Program.

This Alien Address Program is the method by which aliens are able to fulfill one requirement of the Immigration and Nationality Act. That Act requires that every alien who is in the United States (except persons in diplomatic status, and foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations) report his address during January of each year. This law applies even though his address has not changed since the last address report.

The parent or legal guardian of alien children under 14 years of age must report the address of such aliens.

Any alien who is temporarily absent from the United States on January 1 shall report his address within ten (10) days after his return.

What Does The Alien Do? The alien may go to any United States Post Office or any Immigration and Naturalization Service Office and ask for the Address Report Card, Form I-53.

When the alien has filled in all the items he should sign the card and hand it to an employee in any Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Office. Do not mail the card! Do not fold or tear the card! The alien must hand in the Address Report Card during the month of January each year.

What Are The Penalties? An alien required to report his address who willfully or inexcusably fails to report is liable to be taken into custody and deported. Furthermore, such alien may be fined or imprisoned before deportation.

Luke E. McCarthy, Local Representative of the Office of American Citizenship of the Massachusetts Department of Education, also reminds Arlington residents:

If you are a citizen of the United States, this notice does not apply to you. However, you will be assisting your Government, and any of your friends or acquaintances who are not United States citizens, if you will remind them of their responsibilities concerning the Address Report.

President's Guest

Four Arlington residents were recent guests at the home of President and Mrs. Harold C. Case as part of the President's Adventures in conversation sessions which are being held for the sixth year.

Included were: Inez Evans, 31 Wall street; Francis Fandel, of 2 Sheraton park; Louis Carey, 450 Appleton street; and Judith Taylor, 135 Barl street.
